Where do you turn when you need a custom display?

Meet your dedicated account executive

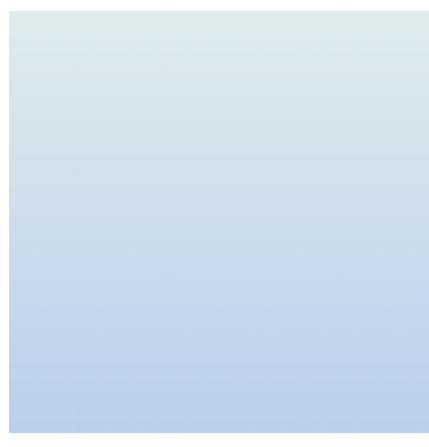

At Colony Display, we have dedicated Account Executives who partner with you as guides from the very beginning of the project, guiding you on the journey from installation, support, and beyond. When you connect with Colony, you're connecting with individuals who are keen on seeing your needs and vision come to fruition.

Aaroun Accounts

ACCOUNT EXECUTIVE

YOUR ACCOUNT EXECUTIVE WILL

Learn your business

Your Account Executive is a guide who can better serve your business by knowing your business.

- What makes you unique?
- What are your markets?
- What is your competitive advantage?
- What kinds of strategic plans do you have not only for the short term, but to grow your business for the future?

We want to know so that we can serve as informed guides to our Colony teams, sharing in your mindset of what makes your business unique and what makes it "tick."

Discover your needs

We have a team of Analysts who comprehensively examine your custom installation needs. We're talking about more than just nuts and bolts. This is about

- your own customers' experiences
- your products or information for display
- traffic patterns
- corporate colors

Whatever the concrete context might be to make your custom installation not just fit a space on a floor, but fit your business.

Debbie Designer

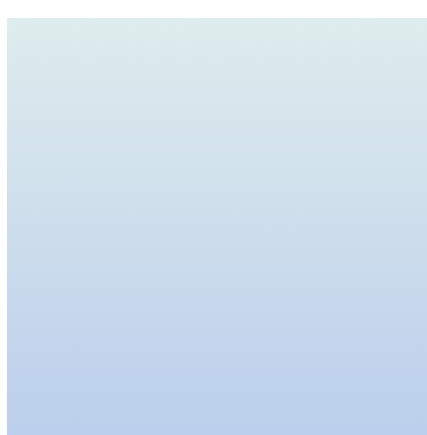

DESIGNER

Your designers & engineers

We have the cutting-edge Designers who create your custom solution with an uncanny eye towards both functionality and form. Our Designers craft your installation with your space and business vision in mind so that your products are effectively framed to enhance your customer's experience.

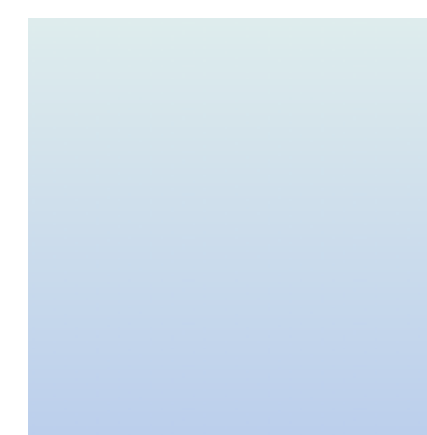

IN DESIGN, WE WILL

Measure your site

Your Analysts and Project Team will conduct a series of onsite visits to review and measure every square inch so that we can properly install as well as visually imagine how your custom installation would fit. Your solution is created at Colony with a precise and visual picture of the place where all the pieces will be installed.

Show you samples

Our Designers and Engineers want you to touch and feel your solution so that you have a concrete idea of what it will look like. We build a Prototype so that you can provide valuable feedback and even see it in your space. Our Project Team wants to make sure we get understand the vision completely to your satisfaction before production begins.

Your manufacturing team

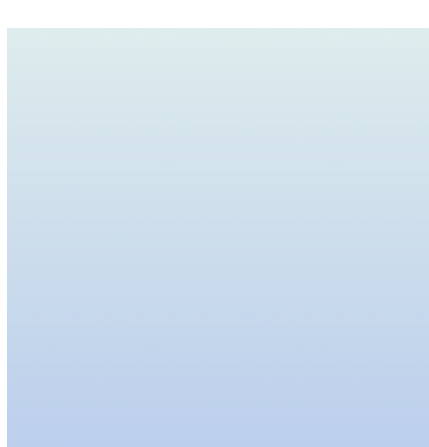

Our Manufacturing Team comes prepared with a shared understanding of your vision and of your business needs—they don't just create a fixture; they are enhancing your business. Their tools and machinery are used to precisely follow detailed plan created by Colony and you. Equal attention to detail is given from the very first piece produced through the very last.

Mark Manufacture

MANUFACTURING

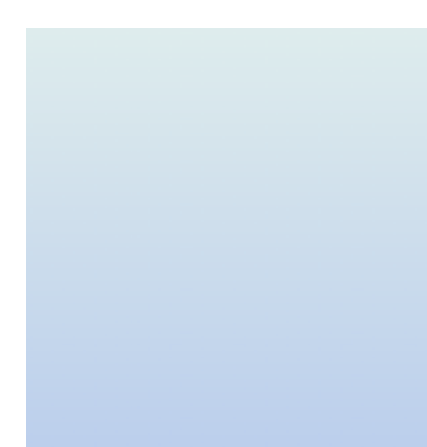

YOUR MANUFACTURING TEAM WILL

Manage the moving pieces

Your Project Manager conducts the complex logistics and inventory consolidation before installation even begins. Our project team handles the dynamic details up to large scale, multi-site rollouts. We take care of shipping, coordinate with your other vendor-partners, and manage product into consolidated warehouses. Because we understand your business, we apply the same energy to building your solution as we do to the logistics of getting the materials to the location, ensuring the complex moving pieces for the installation are on time and on budget.

Install the display

Your Installation Team loves the "before" and "after" effect of seeing how our custom installation enhanced your business space. We work around your business in order to minimize disruption and implement the solution with surprising efficiency. Your vision—our passion—has become a reality for you and your customers.

Call To Action

Your Customer support team will provide hands-on care for your solution including maintenance. We want your solution to provide lasting value to accelerate the way your business grows. And your Account Executive—the same person who you connected with you on the very beginning of the journey—has gotten to know you and your business in a significant way. He/She will continue to cultivate an ongoing relationship so that Colony Solutions will continue to enhance your consumers' experience long after the project installation is completed.
